Ishita Karwal
Communication Design

I am a Communication Design student currently finishing my degree at ISDI, Atlas Skilltech University, Mumbai. My expertise spans across various design platforms bringing creative concepts into reality. My dedication to this field has driven me to constantly explore new avenues, with a recent focus on the exciting intersection of design with artificial intelligence. I am also deeply committed to social causes. Over the past five years, I have actively contributed to "Project Bagiya" by the Sanshil Foundation.
